

Call for Papers

SNB Research Conference 2024

Monetary policy in times of large balance sheets and in a changing world

On 4-5 October 2024, in Zurich, the Swiss National Bank (SNB) will hold a research conference on Monetary policy in times of large balance sheets and in a changing world.

The conference provides a forum for discussing a wide range of theoretical and empirical issues related to monetary policy. Topics of interest include (but are not restricted to):

- Central bank balance sheet challenges: size and composition
- Operating frameworks, ample liquidity and transmission channels of monetary policy
- Monetary policy strategies, communication and uncertainty
- Bank runs and lender of last resort
- Interactions between inflation, monetary policy and debt
- Long-term structural determinants: demographics, artificial intelligence, climate change

Conference participants are also invited to attend the «Karl Brunner Distinguished Lecture Series» that will take place on 3 October 2024.

Those interested in presenting their work at this conference should email a PDF file with a draft of their paper to the organising committee at monetary.research@snb.ch by 13 March 2024. Please mention whether you would like your paper to be also considered for a poster session. Authors of accepted papers will be notified by end-April.

Transportation and accommodation expenses will be covered for presenters and discussants from academic institutions. A conference volume will not be published. Past conference programmes can be found here.

Organising Committee: Athanasios Orphanides (MIT), Carlos Lenz (Swiss National Bank), Marc-Antoine Ramelet (Swiss National Bank), Barbara Rudolf (Swiss National Bank), and Pascal Towbin (Swiss National Bank).
